Up to date, it was pointed out to her.

The G. O. P. nominee has refrained from discussing the case of the suffragettes on his merits. He has simply said he regarded victory of the movement to extend votes to women as inevitable and felt that in view of such inevitability the question should be removed from politics by immediate adoption by Congress of an enabling resolution permitting submission of a Constitutional amendment for equal franchise to the States. He has asserted his belief that such an amendment would carry, and in speeches in Montana, a suffrage State, has expressed gratification over participation by women in voting.

Mr. Hughes left at 9:30 following an automobile parade, for Coeur d'Alene, his only Idaho stop on the present trip. He made a short speech. Tonight he will address a mass meeting in Spokane's outdoor amphitheatre, after which he leaves for Tacoma.

Yesterday Mr. Hughes rested here, seeing no politicians, making no addresses, and not appearing in public except to attend the First Baptist Church with Mrs. Hughes. This week's campaigning will carry him to Puget Sound and Los Angeles.

His first week's experience has made marked changes in Mr. Hughes. The most pronounced is the revival of his last gubernatorial contest. The reticence, diffidence and reserve manifest in his manner while a Supreme Court Justice he has shed easily.

During the last two days of his canvass in Montana he "found" himself. He assumed an easy attitude toward his audiences.

BOYS PLAY FOR FILM STARS.

Newsies Battle in Close Ball Game at Club's Summer Camp.

Two baseball teams of the Newsboys' Club battled through nine innings yesterday before a number of movie stars at the club's summer camp, Midland Beach, Staten Island. Camp No. 14 won from Camp No. 17 by nine to seven.

Rose E. Tapley of the Vitagraph; Baby Lorna of the World Film and Sid Walters of the Fox organization were among the visitors.

The plan of giving newsies a week's outing for 25 cents has brought several hundred boys to the camp. They are permitted to stay a second week by bringing four more boys.

G. O. P. BIG GUNS MAKE A VERDUN OUT OF MAINE

"Carry the State for Republican Ticket at All Costs," Word to Campaigners.

With Candidate Hughes far away on the Pacific Coast, and President Wilson sticking closely to his job in Washington, saying nothing about politics, interest of both Republican and Democratic national headquarters to-day turned to Maine. That northeastern corner State is to be the Verduin of the political campaign that will be decided in its early autumn election on Sept. 11.

Chairman Wilcox of the Republican forces held conferences to-day with numerous New England politicians and arranged for sending into the State all the big guns of the party. Word was passed out that regardless of every other consideration Maine must be carried for the Republican ticket.

"There is much to be contested for," said Mr. Wilcox. "Aside from the local State ticket to be elected, there is the selection of two United States Senators and the influence that the election will have upon the national result in November.

"The campaign there is rapidly expanding from local considerations into national importance. Before election day, pretty much every phase of the presidential campaign will be discussed there by our speakers. We have not narrowed the subject down to any particular issue, but mean to take in everything.

"If President Wilson goes there, as I hear there is prospect of his doing, we shall be prepared to meet whatever issues he raises. And if Secretary Daniels goes, we certainly have some good material supplied to us.

"Mr. Hughes will go directly into Maine when he returns from the Pacific Coast. He is scheduled for two days of speaking. His schedule after that has not yet been determined. Col. Roosevelt will be in Maine on Aug. 22. No arrangements have been made yet for his speaking in other States. That matter will be determined later."

MOOSE CHAIRMAN SAYS WHITMAN WILL LOSE

O'Connell Sees "Humor" in Announcement that Governor Will Run in Progressive Primaries.

Gov. Whitman's announced entrance into Progressive party primaries, backed by most of the Bull Moose leaders who allied with the Republicans, provoked loud trumpeting to-day from the faithful remnant of the Progressive Old Guard. John J. O'Connell, Chairman of the New York County Committee, who refused to be "delivered" to the Republicans, said to-day:

"I'd like to know who is the humorist that devised this scheme. It won't amount to anything excepting this: that Judge Seabury will be sure to be elected governor of the State."

Despite the wrath of the simon pure Progressives the plan for Gov. Whitman to run in the party's primaries is menacing. Even though Col. Roosevelt, William Hamilton Childs, Horace Wilkinson, George W. Perkins and many other Bull Moose leaders have turned Republican and abandoned their old party, they are still, under the law, registered and enrolled Progressives for this year and have a right to vote in the party's primaries.

Both Gov. Whitman and Judge Seabury will be entered by petition in the Progressive contest. Whoever gets a majority of the Bull Moose vote will be entitled to have his name at the head of the party's ticket.
